

THINKING ABOUT THINKING

developing metacognition in young children or more simply,

WHAT'S ALL THE FUSS ABOUT?
why Romper Room falls short

SUNDAY FEBRUARY 12, 2012

2- 5pm

Evergreen Community School

2800 Colorado Ave

Santa Monica, CA 90404

310-453-6255 ext12

- What is metacognition?
- What role does it play in the development of children?
- How do teachers and parents promote the development of metacognition in young children?

About the presenter: Alise Shafer, MA, is the founder and director of Evergreen Community School in Santa Monica, CA where she and her faculty make extensive use of documentation as a source of data for their classroom research on children's construction of knowledge. She is a contributing author in the book, Teaching and Learning: Collaborative Exploration of the Reggio Emilia Approach, Prentice Hall, 2001. Alise has taught at UCLA Extension, Santa Monica College and several other local colleges and universities. She speaks at conferences and consults with schools throughout the United States and abroad, including Peru, Israel, Australia, New Zealand, Scotland, China and Nepal.

---

EARLY REGISTRATION IS ADVISED. Space is limited.

Workshop is $40 non-refundable.

Please make check payable to Alise Shafer
2800 Colorado Avenue, Santa Monica, CA 90404

NAME _____ PHONE _____

ADDRESS _____

EMAIL _____

SCHOOL _____